

Crazy

Laura Marie

Baby, come inside. Close the door
There's no one here to fight. Cross the floor
Over to my side. I want you so close by Let go of what you know. Nothing's clear
I'll show you where to go, we'll disappear
I'm done making sense of what's senseless here

All your thoughts divided, leave them undecided
The night is underway and sanity can wait
Let me you drive you crazy

I want to wrap around you now
Follow the confusion down
Show you all the ways I could never say out loud
People take your time but talk is cheap
Don't let them fill your mind up with such things
Just leave them where they lie and lie next to me

All your thoughts divided leave them undecided
the night is underway and sanity can wait
Let me you drive you crazy

When the world is more than you can take
Take all the time you need from me
Baby, we've only time to lose
Fingers running through your hair
Reasons scattered everywhere
Over and over and under we'll move

All your thoughts divided now
Nothing here to figure out
The night is underway and sanity can wait
Let me you drive you crazy
Crazy
