

Trees of the Ages

Laura Nyro

Trees of the ages
You stroll past them
They toss, shimmer in the wind
You stroll by them

You won't outlast them
They know everything
Hello, hello
Trees of the ages

Evergreen
Hello, hello, only you
Can keep my peaceful dreams

Sweep of the trees
Energy spirals
Co-existing in a glow
Believe in a tree

Trees know what every
Zen master needs to know
Hello, hello
Trees of the evening

And the dawn
Hello, hello
So good to those who stroll along

It is known
In special circles
Tree elves guide the way
High above

What people break
Elves rebuild each day
Oh, they live in strange places
Magic traces

In trees of the ages
The green love in the world
Strollin' at ease
In the great green harmonies
