

Ghosts

Laura Welsh

Bones shake, it's lonely it's late
Footsteps, echo, glammers of hate
Holy candles are blowing a sound
Why can't I tell you it's all going down?

And there's sadness deep down in my soul
Hard times just won't let me go

And I need you to help me through
I can't lay these ghosts to rest
And though I'm scared and it's dark
Oh, I know it's all a mess

The faces
And they're strong, I got them staring back at me
But my will is still strong,
I won't let them take me in
I won't let them take me in

Angels crying, lost in shame
Demons laughing, playin' the game
And there's sadness deep down in my soul
Hard times just won't let me go

I need you to help me through
I can't lay these ghosts to rest
Though I'm scared and it's dark
Oh, I know it's all a mess,

The faces
And they're strong, I got them staring back at me
But my will still is strong,
I won't let them take me in

Days roll on from dust to dawn for all the time, all the time
My faith is grown,
The seeds we've sowed,
They're alright, alright

And there is sadness deep down in my soul
I need you to help me through
I can't lay these ghosts to rest
And though I'm scared and it's dark
Oh, I know it's all a mess

The faces
And they're strong, I got them staring back at me
But my will is still strong,
I won't let them take me in
I won't let them take me in
I won't let them take me in
I won't let them take me in
