

Hardest Part

Laura Welsh

The hardest part I know is giving a little bit of my control
I'm open up my heart, just a little part
Though my mind says no

If you're so close to me,
Why do you remain a mystery?
I've analyzed enough, feel like giving up
When my doubts they hold

I can't dwell on it
Lately I've been going through hell on it
I keep lying to myself I don't need nobody else,
But I do, I need you

I can't sleep on it,
Maybe I've been thinking too deep on it
I've been lying to myself I don't need nobody else
But I do
Honey, I need you, I need you
I need you
I need you
I need you

It's not hard to tell
You've already been beyond my veil
I see you're looking slight
It's not hard to hide
Cause you know me well

And maybe I'm confused, maybe I ask too much of you
I tend to over-think almost everything,
When I should let it be

I can't dwell on it
Lately I've been going through hell on it
I keep lying to myself I don't need nobody else,
But I do
I need you

I can't sleep on it,
Maybe I've been thinking too deep on it
I've been lying to myself I don't need nobody else
But I do
Honey, I need you, I need you
I need you
I need you
I need you

And if there's an answer won't you let me know?
I'm in the dark, this doesn't feel like home
I've tried my very best, oh why I must confess?
At time, our love feels much too much to hold

I can't dwell on it
Lately I've been going through hell on it
I keep lying to myself I don't need nobody else,
But I do

I need you

I can't sleep on it,
Maybe I've been thinking too deep on it
I've been lying to myself I don't need nobody else
But I do
Honey, I need you, I need you
I need you
I need you
I need you
