

Change

Laurel

Everywhere I go
I find a little loves lost
Taken with the tide
My naïveté dies

Thrown up in the waves
The salt underneath us shakes
Heavy on the sea
Our bodies wash up on the beach

A slow fight
Signs in the sky
But we swore we'd try
The waters cold
No going home
But we're still on hold
I I I I and I

Told you I would change
But I'm still doing the same shit
And yeah you thought I'd go your way
But I'm still thinking the same things
Strangers in loving
Absently holding you
It's always catching us up
And yeah you told me you would change
You're spinning out of my orbit

Kingdom of the sky
You're my religion in life
But I'm thirsty for the blood
A burning desire for lust
Frozen in a state
Of loving you anyway
Cause loving you is sweet
When I'm not chasing fantasies

Told you I would change
But I'm still doing the same shit
And yeah you thought I'd go your way
But I'm still thinking the same things
Strangers in loving
Absently holding you
It's always catching us up
And yeah you told me you would change
You're spinning out of my orbit

All my life (All my life)
Been falling out of time (Been falling out of time)
Been falling in and out again oh

Told you I would change
But I'm still doing the same shit
And yeah you thought I'd go your way
But I'm still thinking the same things

Told you I would change

But I'm still doing the same shit
And yeah you thought I'd go your way
But I'm still thinking the same things
Strangers in loving
And yeah you told me you would change
