

Drown In Sunlight

Laurel

Run through the night, sleep through morning
The bedroom burns while we holding on Helplessly breathing, stumble when speaking
And I walk it off

The whites of your eyes cut like the winter
I care what you say, I don't always hear ya
Cool for a second when I'm chasing heaven
It's never enough

It's cold through July
Talking with silent lies, lies
Swim by the glaciers
Asking for summer nights, nights

Sometimes I don't know if you love me
You say it like you're sure but you're trying
In everything I do all I see is you
Passion with a view
Drown in your sunlight
Yeah, yeah

Move through the blue, change with the seasons
The kissing of lips feels like a reason
Shake off an ocean, heavy devotions
Are still not enough

You taste like wine
Under the lights, I
Bloom with the thunder
But you were never the kind, kind

Sometimes I don't know if you love me
You say it like you're sure but you're trying
In everything I do all I see is you
Passion with a view
Drown in your sunlight

Backtrack, if I could hold you I would
I found you burning in a water so blue
I get this feeling I been loving you too hard
And you been needing me too much

Sometimes I don't know if you love me
You say it like you're sure but you're trying
In everything I do all I see is you
Passion with a view
Drown in your sunlight

Sometimes I don't know if you love me
You say it like you're sure but you're trying
In everything I do all I see is you
Passion with a view
Drown in your sunlight

Sometimes I don't know if you love you
You say it like you're sure but you're trying

In everything I do all I see is you
Passion with a view
Drown in the sunlight
