

Fire Breather

Laurel

Town cryer, village flyer
Got a skull and crossbones on his chest
And I can't resist, when he looks like this
All his other girls, face on magazines
Big blue eyes, oh I don't know what it means
No, what does he want from me?

We're hanging in the bars
Running after cars to get home
Wishing on the stars, wonder what you are
I just don't know, he's beautiful
Maybe he shined a little more than me

No, it's too much, burn my sun
Up in flames we go, you fire breather
Ash and dust on my door
Smoke rise, trying to survive inside your arms

Fire breather breathing the fire into
Fire breather, I'm trying to survive inside your arms

Flame thrower at the show
Make my heart melt in the middle of the room
No I can't stay away
Now I'm begging you to stay, oh

Sitting through the days I'm wasting away till the weekends
Running on the green, through the sticks of the suburbs
I learnt, maybe you shined a little more than me

No, it's too much, burn my sun
Up in flames we go, you fire breather
Ash and dust on my door
Smoke rise, trying to survive inside your arms

Fire breather breathing the fire into
Fire breather
Fire breather breathing the fire into

No, it's too much, burn my sun
Up in flames we go, you fire breather
Ash and dust on my door
Smoke rise, trying to survive inside your arms
