

Fall

Lauren Cimorelli

You seem a little crazy
You're really hard to read
They say you're not what I need

But you started staring at me
And it got harder to breathe
I think you got me intrigued

Cause now I'm starting to think about you
I'm starting to wonder what you're doing in the afternoon
I'm starting to care about you
It's kinda scary thinking you could care about me too

I'm starting to fall
Fall
I know I could lose it all
But still I might fall

You got something in your eyes
Something that I really like
I guess we just need some time

And I'm a little cautious
Don't really know what love is
But you got me taking the risk

Cause now I'm starting to do things for you
Things I wouldn't normally do
Guess there's just something about you
And I'm starting to care about you
It's kinda scary thinking you could care about me too

I'm starting to fall
Fall
I know I could lose it all
But still I might fall

Midnight conversations
I should go but I'll keep staying
Till your walls come down
Till I figure you out
And I tried not to show it
But now I think that you know it
I guess that's alright
I think I just might

Fall
Fall
I know I could lose it all
But still I might fall

Fall
