

In Between

Lauren Jauregui

Love me in the In Between
On my way to being the full being I am meant to be
For me
And for the future we
And all the mes that I have been
The dreams that come to tell me of the path that lies ahead
The things that I must leave behind instead of me for dead
The parts that have finally reached their dead end and at the e nd of it all there always seems to be some more to dig up and t hrough
But that is what we do
We live
And are alive while we learn to survive and then thrive in this life
Cut open the pieces buried deepest inside
To let out the pieces that still try to find their place to hid e
In our lungs
And our hearts that have stung for so long we've become accusto med to being this numb and this hung up on all of the potential instead of the truth
It's all monumental and accidental in truth
And only as instrumental and detrimental as you allow it to be Can't allow ourselves to be used
I wade in the waters of the In Between Until I'm born again
A new and renewed

Leave me
Leave me in the In Between Love me
Love me in the In Between
