

Fantasy

Lauren Spencer-Smith

Ditched all of our friends to hang out
We would play pretend like we're already famous
You had all the charm, I was young and stupid
Thought that it was normal getting treated like shit

Every time you had a bad week you would block me
Miss me then you added me back saying: Sorry
If it was a part of your plan, then you got me
It's really quite incredible, gotta give you credit, though

You always play the victim, used to be convincing
You loved me when you needed, left when it was easy
Heard that you are doing great now, journal and you workout
Into meditation, oh, congratulations
When you gonna call me and give me that apology?
There I go again, back living in a fantasy

I'm tryna figure out what's the real truth
Did you really change or do you just want to?
Oh, I don't miss the old you and I don't like the brand new Acting like you care doesn't make you self aware

You always play the victim, used to be convincing
You loved me when you needed, left when it was easy
Heard that you are doing great now, journal and you workout
Into meditation, oh, congratulations
When you gonna call me and give me that apology?
There I go again, back living in a fantasy

Funny how a fantasy can end up as a tragedy
All you ever had to be was someone who was nice to me
Gave you every part of me, you took it all so happily
Ooh, ooh, ooh

You always play the victim, used to be convincing
You loved me when you needed, left when it was easy
Heard that you are doing great now, journal and you workout
Into meditation, oh, congratulations
When you gonna call me and give me that apology?
There I go again, back living in a fantasy
