

Letting Go

Lea Michele

Chasing after all of the words you swallow
Running, running, run through the silent sorrow

Gotta keep your head up to the sky, the sky
Let the sun remind you you're alive
Alive inside

Find the—find the good in letting go
Let the—let the silver lining show

Rise up with a new day
Light up in a new way
Open up your peace of mind
And find the—find the good in letting go

Breaking patterns, so you can rediscover
Glowing, glowing come back to life in color

Open up your hands to hold the light, the light
Let the sun remind you you're alive
Alive inside

Find the—find the good in letting go
Let the—let the silver lining show

Rise up with a new day
Light up in a new way
Open up your peace of mind
And find the—find the good in letting go

When you feel you're trapped in the sea of the darkness
Fear feels like it's 10,000 stories high
Remember that we're stronger than voices inside us
The light is always on on the other side

Find the—find the good in letting go
Let the—let the silver lining show

Rise up with a new day
Light up in a new way
Open up your peace of mind
And find the—find the good in letting go
