Not A Day Goes By

Leatherface

No I didn't think you were wrong And I can still sing your favorite song. It's not as simple as forgetting presents that were bought, And not a day goes by when I don't spare you a thought. Not a day goes by, not a day goes, not a day goes by. A time when everything was evergreen. Evergreen and seemingly ideal. Nights turning into days and we didn't even notice the change. Not a day, not a day goes by.
