

Break It Down

Lecrae

Let me tell 'bout my homeboy Cory this is the first verse of the very first story call it the first letter you can call it whatever long as you hear the truth and leave surer than ever Cory's a new believer actin' like he's in gang he run around sayin his Church is the greatest thang He won't check a sermon unless its his Bishops name,
It seems he forgot to keep Jesus the main thang Cause Bishop ain't raise up after three days up he ain't take ya case up offering you his grace huh But Cory stay divided all the time not Christ but a man that he standin behind

I got this little letter, I'm tryna break down (break it down)
So you can hear the Truth in the Sound (In the Sound) Division,
A whole lotta Sin I can't forget the problems of people living within. [X2]

I got this little letter I'm tryna break down (break it down)
But let me tell you Cory background he started off crazy, parties, full shawties religious ceremonies where peop le was gettin naughty but all that changed the truth of God reigned The Gospel spread within Him, like viruses in his veins but man even though his heart's rearranged he found himself caught up in some of his old ways he layin up with women his sinning was gettin strange he thought the more he sinned the more Jesus was pleased to save He thought cause he accepted His brother touchin his mother that he was spiritual cause he let'em get with each other Cory had beef with another within the faith instead workin' through it they opened a court case a slap to the face of the God who gives grace Cory's outta place tryna carry his own weight

I got this little letter, I'm tryna break down (break it down)
So you can hear the Truth in the Sound (In the Sound) Division,
A whole lotta Sin I can't forget the problems of people living within. [X2]

Now Cory got married but everywhere he turns he sees lust burn and women waitin' to serve him yeah an Cory's learnin satan wishes to turn him away from his wife to satisfy all his yearnings Divorce ain't legitimate if both are regenerate what God put together let nobody put a split in it but see that ain't the end of it He sought his own benefit He would do things that his friends saw as forbidden and though it was no sin in it His homies they was ignorant and they were made weak cause His liberty was t heir hinderance

Unlike an apostle no concern for the Gospel no denying his rights nah homie wasn't that thoughtful...thoughtful Maybe I should take a second to explain man that Cory ain't a person but a group of people.

Many just like Christians today - caught up in their own worldly culture no respect for divine authority, the Lords Supper, and still exalting gifts which are all given by the Holy Spirit. They begin to value these things more than love for one another. Everything we have is given by God who commands us to live outwardly toward others.

I pray none of us wrestle with the Resurrection of Jesus. Holla at me if you do.

Above all things LOVE GOD and LOVE ONE ANOTHER!
