

You Should've Lied

Lee Ann Womack

Should have known you'd come around
Did your conscience bother you?
Well, I guess I forgive you now
But that's all that I can do
Ain't nothin' lonely as the truth
You should've lied to me baby
You should've tried just a little bit harder now baby
You see my pride has been talkin' to me lately
And you can't come back, you can never come back
I won't stand another woman
You should've lied
You overestimated me
Thinkin' I would understand
Believing that your honesty
Would make me see a bigger man
Was that all part of your plan
You should've lied to me baby
You should've tried just a little bit harder now baby
You see my pride has been talkin' to me lately
And you can't come back, you can never come back
I won't stand another woman
You should've lied
You should've lied to me baby
You should've tried just a little bit harder now baby
You see my pride has been talkin' to me lately
And you can't come back, you can never come back
I won't stand another woman
You should've lied
You should've lied
You should've lied to me baby
You should've lied