

Waking Up

Lee DeWyze

First of all, first of all
Let me point some of this out
Why the yelling why the screaming
What's this fighting all about
Why is there a fence
Between every single house

I've been sleeping
I've been sleeping

I've been sleeping
I've been sleeping

Take your time, take your time
Breathe it in and breathe it out
Nothing's where it was
Yet nothing ever came about
Why is everything
Feeling so new to me now

I've been sleeping
I've been sleeping

And through smoke screens the figures and the machines
There I saw a glimpse of what to feel alive means

I've been sleeping
I've been sleeping
I've been sleeping

I've been sleeping
