

I Should Have Let You Be

Lee Fields

If you give me one more chance
I'll surely let you be, you've done no wrong by me
Oh girl, no one has an empty pass
I should have let you be, you've done no wrong by me

How I tried to get over the way I would feel
When someone would say just his name
But the pain that you caused me, oh it was real
And slowly it drove me insane

If you give me one more chance
I would let you be, you done no wrong by me
No girl, no one has an empty pass
I should have let you be, you've done no wrong by me

I was too blinded by what was behind it
To see your face staring at me
Now me and my pride sit alone in the dark
Your face is all I can see

And while I was thinking 'bout the one you'd run to
I became the one that you would flee
It was me who let you go

But if I had another chance
I'd truly let you be, you've done no wrong by me
Oh girl, no one has an empty pass
I should have let you be, you've done no wrong by me

You've done no wrong by me, I should've let you be Oh baby, now I see, I should have let you be Ooh baby, come back to me (I should've let you be)
You would say, yeah, I should've baby
