Ordinary Lives

Lee Fields

Don't go
Why don't you lay a little longer?
Don't go
My love for you is getting stronger

Just a few more hours
The sun is gonna rise
And we'll go back to our ordinary lives

Don't leave now
I want to know a little more
Don't leave now
Just let my love grow a little more

In just a few more hours
The sun is gonna rise
And we'll go back to our ordinary lives

If you go now
I don't know if I can take it
If you go now
I don't know if I can make it

Just a few more hours
The sun is gonna rise
And we'll go back to our ordinary lives

Please don't ask me no more baby
If what we're doing
Is in the right
Don't you know baby
I'd rather give up on heaven
Just to see
The rest of this night

In the morning
No one can ever see
In the morning
You, you and I can never be

Just a few more hours
The sun will surely rise
And we'll go back to our ordinary lives
Ooh, ooh-ooh, ooh
