

Regenerate

Lee Fields

I've learned from my mistakes and all the times I've caused heartbreak

Losing you ain't really in my plans

I hope you come around and let our love regenerate

'Cause losing you ain't really in my plans

I know you think I made this choice alone

All I want to do is make a home

Hope I never have to say, "Byebye, bye, baby, byebye"

I know you think our love can't purify

But I can truly, truly try

Hope I never have to say, "Byebye, bye, baby, byebye"

I've learned from my mistakes and all the times I've caused heartbreak

Losing you ain't really in my plans

I hope you come around and let our love regenerate

'Cause losing you ain't really in my plans

I know we had the same discussion

Now you think my words mean nothing

When I tell you I would die for ya

I ain't lying, I would die for ya

We can make it like it was before

Come on, open up your love door

I don't wanna have to say, "Byebye, bye, baby, byebye"

I learned from my mistakes and all the times I've caused heartbreak

Losing you ain't really in my plans

I hope you come around and let our love regenerate

'Cause losing you ain't really in my plans
