

Loving You Loving Me

Lee Hazlewood

Standin' on some muddy roadside
With my back turned toward the rain
I think I'm twenty miles from somewhere
I know I'm thirty years insane
And my shoes ain't worth tyin'
Like my life there wearin' thin
And if it wasn't for the dyin'
Lord I'd like to try again

Loving you
Loving you
Loving me

And the rain just keeps on raining
And the cars keep rolling by
And there ain't no use complaining
So I'll just stand here and cry
And sometimes I remember
When we climbed the walls in sin
God I hope that you're forgiven
Cos I'd like to try again

Loving you
Loving you
Loving me

And I know why I haven't seen you
For at least a thousand days
But I still know what you feel like
And I know your woman ways
And If I had the nerve I'd find you
I'd take you in my arms and then...
I'd hold you till you told me
Lord I'd like to try again

Loving you
Loving you
Loving me
