It's raining again outside
I always think of you at times like this
I can't sleep

Silence in my room
Along with the lonely sound of my heart
I think I'll go crazy

So I turn on my radio
I hear unfamiliar voices
And on the radio
Those sad stories sound so much like my story

Hey DJ play me a song to make me smile
On nights when my heart is sad
There's a song that will laugh for me
That will help me forget you

Hey DJ play me a song to make me cry
On nights when my heart is frustrated
There's a song that will laugh for me
That will help me forget you

Even the darkness that comforted this harsh day
Has fallen asleep tonight
I'm throwing it all up hundreds of times
Because it hurts so much

I'm just a small piece of a small part of your life
Just a companion for your emotions, sometimes like familia

Sometimes, when you want to take a break
When you're buried in loneliness even when you're with someone

When you take someone out from being drunk in memories
Only then do I become your music

Yes, I'm someone's spring, someone's winter
Someone's end, someone's beginning

I'm someone's happiness, someone's soul
Someone's lullaby, someone's noise

I'll be with you at your birth and end
Wherever you are, remember we're together
I'll always comfort your life
So please, lean on me and rest sometimes

So I turn on my radio
I hear unfamiliar voices
And on the radio
Those sad stories sound so much like my story

Hey DJ play me a song to make me smile
On nights when my heart is sad
There's a song that will laugh for me
That will help me forget you

Hey DJ play me a song to make me cry
On nights when my heart is frustrated
There's a song that will laugh for me
That will help me forget you

It's raining again outside
I always think of you at times like this
I can't sleep
I guess I can't help it
