

Fatal Attraction

Left To Suffer

All I know is I'm lost in the dark
Aggravated in here and you're the only one who can find me
You cut me open and you tell me that I'm not enough
You say you love me while you're pulling out a loaded gun

Eviscerate the image in my fucking brain
The mental pain of wasting all my days away
I have no time left
I guess this is as good as it gets

I wish I could, your whisper lays between the wood
And not stuck in my goddamn head
Why is the image haunting me in my sleep?
As if my mental state is a trophy that you could keep

I was made to cast that judgment back

It's not as hard as it looks
But you try to ruin me
And you know you're not justified
When you're not satisfied
With the people that you've done wrong

I know it's something that we're running from
How much more of this can I take lately?

Now we're standing face to face (We're standing face to face)
I know it's easy to say when it's over
I scream into these burning lungs (But there's no one to hear me)
And now I'm left with the fatal attraction

(And now I'm left with the fatal attraction)

Oh God, we're all made to burn
I wish you'd speak my every word
You're no better than the rest
You're a failure, even when you try your best

I'm waking up in cold sweats
Praying on bated breath
Only begging that you will take everything back
But we know that's just not how it works
We fight to feel the pain just to feel something

Oh

Not a word out of your mouth
When you think of saying shit to me
This is so pointless
Don't start breaking me down

Please stop breaking me down
Failure

(Now we're standing face to face)

Now we're standing face to face (We're standing face to face)

I know it's easy to say when it's over
I scream into these burning lungs (But there's no one to hear me)
But I'm just left with the fatal attraction

(Now we're standing face to face)
(I know it's easy to say when it's over)
(Now we're standing face to face)

But I'm just left with the fatal attraction