

Forever

Left To Suffer

I can breathe with no oxygen tonight
I wanna say that I'm following the light
And I know I'm not over you
Is it something that I've gotta choose?
Either way I'm gonna lose

Forever is never enough, is never enough without you
Forever is never enough, is never enough without you
Forever is never enough, is never enough without you
Forever is never enough, is never enough without you

Without you...

I can't live
Without you
Why did we go our separate ways
Choosing self harm to medicate
Just another fleeting thought in your head space
Pushed aside as I'm taken and displaced

Please answer me
Could I still be
The one you need
I'm on my knees
Please answer me
Could I still be
The one you need
I've said my piece

I won't be here forever
These ties begin to sever
I'll spill this beating heart for you
Just tell me the truth

Do you see me?
I've made myself numb
I hate the person that I've become
I'll fall short
You'll carry on
This stage I'm weak but I'm better off

I can breathe with no oxygen tonight
I wanna say that I'm following the light

And I know I'm not over you
Is it something that I've gotta choose?
Either way I'm gonna lose

Forever is never enough, is never enough without you
Forever is never enough, is never enough without you
Forever is never enough, is never enough without you
Forever is never enough, is never enough without you

Without you...

Forever is never enough, is never enough without you
Forever is never enough, is never enough without you

Forever is never enough, is never enough without you
Forever is never enough, is never enough without you

Forever is never enough, is never enough without you
Forever is never enough, is never enough without you
