

Stranger

Lefty Frizzell

You were no stranger when he introduced you to me
But you pretended not to know me sweetheart
Though I tried hard not to cry I found a teardrop in my eye
When you walked off my world fell apart
What can you say when your lover becomes a stranger to you
Just hope and pray you recover that sweet love you knew
So if you ever change your mind I won't be hard to find
Stranger you're no stranger to me
What can you say...
Stranger you're no stranger to me
