

I Will

Leith Ross

Because I loved you, I love you still
No need to dance around it, but dance you will
Because I loved you, I love you still
And I will, I will, I will

Because I knew you, I know you still
No matter how you've changed, and change you will
Because I knew you, I know you still
And I will, I will, I will

And though I ache from you
I know my will has no claim on what's true

Because you hurt me, you hurt me still Though we move along, and move we will
Because I hurt you, I hurt you still
I will, I will, I will

You cried when I cried, and you hate me now
You promised, you lied, and you hate me now
I've tried and I've tried, but I can't, somehow
I can't hate you, how could you hate me now?

Because I loved you, I love you still
Though it's painful, darling, at least I'm filled
Because I loved you, I love you still
And I will, I will, I will
