We feel super fine every second, every minute every day
We feel super fine every second, every minute every day
We feel super fine every second, every minute every day
We feel super fine every second, every minute every day

We feel super fine every second, every minute every day
And if you can't stop time, you're not a friend of mine
We feel super fine every second, every minute every day
And if you can't stop time, you're not a friend of mine

And if you can't stop time, you're not a friend of mine
We feel super fine every second, every minute every day
And if you can't stop time, you're not a friend of mine
