

Love Turned Hate

Lemar

You watched me in my struggle
And you were there to hold my hand
And I felt you wipe the tears from my eyes
That's why I don't understand
These words you say, the way you change, yeah
You know it's written on your face

I've seen love turned to hate
You're giving yourself away
It's too late
Whenever you're gonna say is that enough
Now we can never go back
I think we're done but you already know that
Love just turned to hate
You're giving yourself away

So we got ourselves a situation
I got my papers in my hand
And I seem to be the one to pay the price
Though I'm not the guilty man
These words they hurt, but what it's worse
Yeah, it's what it's written on your face

I've seen love turned to hate
You're giving yourself away
It's too late
Whenever you're gonna say is that enough
Now we can never go back
I think we're done but you already know that
Love just turned to hate
You're giving yourself away

Your love's so fine
But I still don't understand the reason
The reason why
Now it's too late
Whenever you're gonna say is that enough
Now we can never go back
I think we're done but you already know that
Love just turned to hate
You're giving yourself away
Giving yourself away
Giving yourself away
