

Scream

Lene

Truth is blurry
And distorted
And my vision stained

In my mindless space
Silent voices wake
And speak no good or worth
I feel no gravity

Another promise broke
Another empty stroke
Then I fall headfirst

Slowly I escape
And I release the pain
I feel the gravity

And I scream
But my mind can't eat
When my soul won't sleep
Won't you feed my swollen appetite

And I scream
In my weightless frame
Tell me who's to blame
If the pictures lie

Million miles away
From the real world
Is where the fiction lays?

Tear another page
Hope your doubts erase
Read the words you're told
I'm yelling yet unheard

Same old story
Stone cold days
Don't know what is real
I'm blind until it hurts

Guess it just don't matter when
You're so helpless and the life
You're given a mess
Give me one good reason

Why I'm so mixed up
I wish the damn fake bubble
Would burst
