Lenka

I don't need you riding white horses to my house
I don't need you buying red roses for my love
When it comes down to it I know
You are always in my corner right when I need ya
There's no need to prove it, no no
You will always be the champion of my heart

You don't need a suit of shining armour for my love
And you don't need me wrapped up in a bow I know I'm enough
When it comes down to it, we know
We'll be lifting up each other, high as we can go
There is no need to prove it, no no
You will always be the champion of my heart

Ch-ch-champion
Ch-ch-champion
Ch-ch-champion

Every road we're taking
Every choice we're making
You need someone who understands
You take a dice and roll it
Take a hand and hold it
And hope that it will stay that way
Can't have it any other way
