

No Harm Tonight

Lenka

Healthy is the heart that goes on,
Even when everything feels so wrong
Turn off your senses
And let go of all those defenses you built up so strong

Lucky is the one who breaks free
Free from himself and his hopes and his fears
Take from your shoulders
The weight that you don't need to hold anymore cause I'm here

I'll be your protection, darling

Nothing will harm you tonight
All of your darkness will turn into light
Your shadows will fly away
Your ships will sail away
No, nothing will harm you tonight

Happy is the heart that holds on
Onto the knowledge that it won't be long
Until I'm back in your arms
And you'll make like a guardian through till the dawn

You'll be my protection, darling

Nothing will harm you tonight
All of your darkness will turn into light
Your shadows will fly away
Your ships will sail away
No, nothing will harm you tonight

Crumble like ashes away from the fire
I'm here to catch you and hold you a while
I'll just hold you a while

Nothing will harm you tonight
All of your darkness will turn into light
Your shadows will fly away
Your ships will sail away
No, nothing will harm you tonight

Nothing will harm you tonight
No, nothing will harm you tonight
