

Breakaway

Lennon Stella

I apologize my emotions are higher
Hard to explain when you feel your world's on fire
Close my eyes to all the things that hurt my nature
I apologize but I am

I'm tired of holding my head up
I'm tired of trying to hold onto you
This cycle fighting and making up
I'm tired of trying to hold on

Everything is falling apart
Slipping away
There's no rewinding the things we say
Everything is falling apart
Slipping away
No way to fight it
I'll break, breakaway
Break, breakaway
I'll break, breakaway
Break, breakaway
I'll break

The ground and the ceiling seem to be disappearing
Nothing to stand on, oh God I hate this feeling
You put the weight of your world down on my shoulders
Why'd you have to make me older
Make me older, make me older

I'm tired of holding my head up
I'm tired of trying to hold onto you
This cycle fighting and making up
I'm tired of trying to hold on

Everything is falling apart
Slipping away
There's no rewinding the things we say
Everything is falling apart
Slipping away
No way to fight it
I'll break, breakaway
Break, breakaway
I'll break, breakaway
Break, breakaway

Everything is falling apart
Slipping away
There's no rewinding the things we say
Everything is falling apart
Slipping away
No way to fight it
I'll break, breakaway
Break, breakaway
I'll break, breakaway
Break, breakaway
