

Dirt

LÉON

Somebody once told me
Change is gonna hurt
Ask me what the price is
To my self-worth
Lately I've been worried
I'm doing it wrong
No sense of intuition
A piece is gone

On a sandbank, oh
I stared into the sunset, oh
And I made myself a promise, oh
I'll never let it go again

I want pain
Dirt
Passion and devotion
I want real love
Fountains of emotions
Wanna feel the fall
Dive into that ocean
Into the heat of the world
Till it spits me right out

Somebody once told me
You can't stay in the past
Why you going backwards
You won't get time back
Been letting it slip
Right out of my hands
Just waiting on the sidelines
While the world moves fast

On a sandbank, oh
I stared into the sunset, oh
And I made myself a promise, oh
I'll never let it go again

I want pain
Dirt
Passion and devotion
I want real love
Fountains of emotions
Wanna feel the fall
Dive into that ocean
Into the heat of the world
Till it spits me right out

I want pain
Dirt
A little taste
For what it's worth

I want pain
Dirt
Passion and devotion
I want real love

Fountains of emotions
Wanna feel the fall
Dive into that ocean
