Liar

LÉON

Heartbreak's on its way
Nothing left to say
Why you playing, babe
And tell me who she is
The reason to all this
Is she staying, babe

Liar, you are a liar
But you can't hide your face, it's so revealing
Liar, you are a liar
And nothing that you say can change this feeling

I'm laying wide awake while you are sleeping
It seems like I can't leave, I'm too forgiving
I've asked a thousand times for just one reason
If it's love, it is rough
Why am I not enough

Screamed until I cried
Why is she here tonight
Are you playing, babe
Does she know my name
Tell me why she came
Is she staying, babe

Liar, you are a liar
But you can't hide your face, it's so revealing
Liar, you are a liar
And nothing that you say can change this feeling

I'm laying wide awake while you are sleeping
It seems like I can't leave, I'm too forgiving
I've asked a thousand times for just one reason
If it's love, it is rough
Why am I not enough

I wonder why you're fine, are you forgetting?
The things that you have done, the scars you given
I've asked a thousand times for just one reason
If it's love, it is rough
Why am I not enough

Don't you see I'm hurting
I'm hurting
Don't you see I'm hurting
I'm hurting

I'm laying wide awake while you are sleeping
It seems like I can't leave, I'm too forgiving
I've asked a thousand times for just one reason
If it's love, it is rough
Why am I not enough

I wonder why you're fine, are you forgetting?
The things that you have done, the scars you given
I've asked a thousand times for just one reason

Why am I not enough
