

Never Good At Goodbyes

Leroy Sanchez

Oh, I'm stuck at a place in between
My head and my heart
And I'm afraid I'll say some stupid shit
That will break us apart

It's like the faster I run, the further you get
And if I ask you, don't speak, what's in your head
Like we're too broken to fix, we should call it quits
But nobody bends

What if you hold me just a little bit closer
Here in the silence while I look in your eyes
I know it's time for me to say this is over
But baby I was never good at goodbyes
What if we wait a little more to get closure
Maybe we'll turn it all around for the night
I know it's time for me to say this is over
But baby I was never good at goodbyes

Oh I'm stuck at a place in between
The noise and the silence
Laying awake at night while thinking that we
Yeah we could've been timeless

It's like the faster I run the further you get
And if I ask you don't speak what's in your head
Like we're too broken to fix
We should call it quits
But nobody bends

What if you hold me just a little bit closer
Here in the silence while I look in your eyes
I know it's time for me to say this is over
But baby I was never good at goodbyes
What if we wait a little more to get closure
Maybe we'll turn it all around for the night
I know it's time for me to say this is over
But baby I was never good at goodbyes

Oh, I can also hear the words you don't
You don't say
If not goodbye then tell me that you too wanna stay

What if you hold me just a little bit closer
Here in the silence while I look in your eyes
I know it's time for me to say this is over
But baby I was never good at goodbyes
What if we wait a little more to get closure
That way I get to be with you one more night
I know it's time for me to say this is over
But baby I was never good at goodbyes
