Bomb Drop

Less Than Jake

Head full of chemicals until you've had enough
Dissonance makes the accidents all become too much
You swung like a pendulum and now you're feeling numb
Turned from a warning shot into a smoking gun

You can't keep waiting for the bomb to drop
And hope everything just stops
And falls in place while dark clouds roll away
You can't keep waiting for the bomb to drop
And watch the ticking clock
The hourglass, the shadows past away

Time never waits for you, time won't ever stop
Time doesn't need to know, it's not a countdown clock
You've been waiting for the end just like you always do
The targets on your back they fade to black and blue

Those warning signs
The war inside your mind
Turns out it's all for nothing
Those warning signs
The war inside your mind
It's all for nothing

You can't keep waiting for the bomb to drop
And hope everything just stops
And falls in place while dark clouds roll away
You can't keep waiting for the bomb to drop
And watch the ticking clock
The hourglass, the shadows past away

You can't keep waiting for the bomb to drop
And hope everything just stops
The hourglass, the shadows past away
