

Call to Arms

Less Than Jake

I've pushed back, I've been pulled away
Don't have what it takes for me to face another day
This constant battle never helps
I see my reflection I don't recognize myself

I know somehow I'll turn it all around

This is a call to arms, sound the alarm
To all the times I've swung and missed
This is a call to arms, sound the alarm
I can't keep breaking, breaking myself down like this

I'm creeping closer to the edge
I've keep losing sleep over the careless things I said
I'm worn out, I've been wearing thin
Wonder if the truth lives in the moments I've forgotten

I know somehow I'll turn it all around

This is a call to arms, sound the alarm
To all the times I've swung and missed
This is a call to arms, sound the alarm
I can't keep breaking, breaking myself down like this

This is a call to arms, sound the alarm
To all the times I've swung and missed
This is a call to arms, sound the alarm
I can't keep breaking, breaking myself down like this

This is a call to arms
This is a call to arms
This is a call to arms, sound the alarm
I can't keep breaking, breaking myself down like this
