

And I
I wonder if you'd understand if I said I'll never go never go along again And if I told you all that I believe in and gave you my reasons and always had an answer an honest answer for all of them sometimes you just want to belong at any loss or any cost yeah I've I've made mistakes before but I just can't seem to remember them anymore and I've followed everyone's lead before and I've made my own decisions and I've never felt so strong before I've never felt so strong before
sometimes your best defense is a good reminder of your common sense strike a match and hope it lasts here's to following your own lead it's the path that I have taken after all the contemplation it's the promise I have made I hope it lasts
