

Keep on Chasing

Less Than Jake

Moving a bit further past the fray
The suspended belief held deep in yesterday
We were chasing our fate to take the plunge
Pay twice the price, for half the fun
Trudging slowly through reality
Wading through a sea of constant jealousy
We were chasing our fate to take the plunge
Pay twice the price, for half the fun
The ship has sailed, the song's been sung

Always on the run and I keep on chasing
Love is like a drug and it keeps me waiting
I don't want to go, but I think I have to now

Heading closer to finality
Stepping farther away from my insanity
We were chasing our fate to take the plunge
The ship has sailed, the song's been sung

Always on the run and I keep on chasing
Love is like a drug and it keeps me waiting
I don't want to go, but I think I have to now
Love is like a drug and it keeps me waiting
Always on the run and I keep on chasing
I don't wanna go, but I think I have to now
I think I have to now

Extinguish all the flames
It's getting hotter than Hell
But, it's still cold in here
Maybe it's the subtlety
Passive aggressive casualty
It's hard to find the path, when it dead ends
Keep marching on, on, on, on

Always on the run and I keep on chasing
Love is like a drug and it keeps me waiting
I don't want to go, but I think I have to now
Love is like a drug and it keeps me waiting
Always on the run, every moments faded
I don't want to go, but I think I have to now
Always on the run, I keep on chasing
