

Need Some Shaking

Less Than Jake

Feels like we've waited way too long
Gotta get together or we can't move on
Take a look at what's inside us
Try to break down what divides us
I wanna learn how to take more chances
Wanna listen to what everybody else says
Plant seeds to our kids, strong
Been the same way all along

But some things need some shaking sometimes

Shake your life and let's try
And take your chance on a dream, it might sound unbelievable
Twenty thousand reasons why
The days and days of routine leave me so predictable

Feels like it's faded straight away
The clock in the drain of self-decay
Done seeing both sides of the fences
Stop living in my past tenses
One deep-on look in the mirror
True pops help me to stay clear
Stay awake till the morning light
Swear to God, my wrongs and rights

'Cause some things need some shaking sometimes

Shake your life and let's try
And take your chance on a dream, it might sound unbelievable
Twenty thousand reasons why
The days and days of routine leave me so predictable

Oh, I don't wanna use the same excuses again
Oh, don't say it's all been done and there's nothing left

Shake your life and let's try
And take your chance on a dream, it might sound unbelievable
Twenty thousand reasons why
The days and days of routine leave me so predictable
Shake your life and let's try
And take your chance on a dream, it might sound unbelievable
Twenty thousand reasons why
The days and days of routine leave me predictable
