

Shake Loose the Truth

Less Than Jake

Give me a minute to stop and wonder
What kind of person is bubbling under
The eyes and the skin that I'm living in
All the days of my life
Call it a journey from start to finish
A likely story I'm starring in
I'm cursed with bad luck, my feelings get stuck
An inch from losing my grip
But I hold on

Shake loose the truth
I surrender to the ride
Till the last stop on the line
Until it's over, but it's not over now
Shake loose the truth
I'll endure the roughest times
Till the last night I'm alive
Sometimes I really mean forever

It's been a lifetime since I felt stable
Or felt strong enough to be able to Pick myself up again and again
With so little to lose in the end
It's like catching yourself daydreaming
And you don't like every scene that you see
Wonder if anyone's got those feelings or not
I promise you're not alone, you're not alone

Shake loose the truth
I surrender to the ride
Till the last stop on the line
Until it's over, but it's not over now
Shake loose the truth
I'll endure the roughest times
Till the last night I'm alive
Sometimes I really mean forever

I surrender, I surrender
I surrender, I surrender
No one's keeping me
Away from who I'm supposed to be

Shake loose the truth
I surrender to the ride
Till the last stop on the line
Until it's over, but it's not over now
Shake loose the truth
I'll endure the roughest times
Till the last night I'm alive
Sometimes I really mean forever
