

So Much Less

Less Than Jake

Maybe I'm branding myself, but I just can't help, I can't help but question
Why's it easy these days to catch a case of modern-day depression
Living in the same state, but we can't relate
Relate to one another
Maybe I'm outta my mind
But, I thought this world would be fine
But, it feels like we're so behind

Don't leave me here
I'd rather disappear
Than wake up in the same old skin, the morning after
Don't leave me here
I'd rather disappear
Than wake up in the same old skin, the morning after

It's not OK
But, either way
We're gonna make it through today
'Cause our differences are so much less than what the man on th e TV say

Here's a conspiracy, it's them vs me, I'm in the wrong reality
Like someone flipped a switch and my life just glitched, but no one can see
Livin' in the bad times and bad vibes
Only the jive gonna keep me alive
And there's a sign that says that the world's coming to an end
And I almost want to believe them

Don't leave me here
I'd rather disappear
Than wake up in the same old skin, the morning after
Don't leave me here
I'd rather disappear
Than wake up in the same old skin, the morning after

Don't leave me here
I'd rather disappear
Than wake up in the same old skin, the morning after
Don't leave me here
I'd rather disappear
Than wake up in the same old skin, the morning after