

View from the Middle

Less Than Jake

Do you still believe in what you've never touched or seen it's that one extreme all out or in too deep cause there's a difference of what's true and the truth and in an instant it gets the best of you

(Whoa oh)
Is it always right, is it always useless (whoa oh)
it'll get me by, it'll get me through cause the more we ask then the more we end up lost

It's not one side that makes it right it's never black and white it's what happens in the middle it's not the one thing you decide or what you think is right
(whoa oh oh)

It's follow, fall or lead not programmed to be on repeat we're balanced on a beam can't see one side of things cause there's a difference
and in an instant it gets the best of you

(Whoa oh) Is it always right, is it always useless (whoa oh)

(Whoa oh oh oh) It's never black and white it's caught between the what you think is right and up against the one thing you decide

Do you still believe in what you've never seen?
not programmed on repeat
we're balanced on a beam
we always see one side of things we always end up lost
we always end up lost
