

Crying In The Shower

Letdown.

Crying in the shower
Fucked up from the pain
You never liked diamonds
Only shit that you can break
I'm running out of pornstars
And highs that I can chase
Crying in the shower
But I can't wash you away

I don't want to learn another lesson
I don't wanna lose my head
I can see the edge of your impression
Scattered across my bed
And baby now you're leaving me on empty
And I can't even leave you on read
And I can see the sign of my depression
Reading through all our texts

Exchanging these angels for demons
'Cause sometimes the pills stop the bleeding

Crying in the shower
Fucked up from the pain
You never liked diamonds
Only shit that you can break
I'm running out of pornstars
And highs that I can chase
Crying in the shower
But I can't wash you away

Remember, when you said that we were different
It was you and me against the world
Everything was gonna be perfect
I guess perfect just means hurt
Standing here with all of my emotions
Ones I never thought I'd feel
Running through the memories of a past life
Voids that I can't feel

Exchanging these angels for demons
'Cause sometimes the pills stop the bleeding

Crying in the shower
Fucked up from the pain
You never liked diamonds
Only shit that you can break
I'm running out of pornstars
And highs that I can chase
Crying in the shower
But I can't wash you away
Can't wash you away

Can't wash you away, can't wash you away

I crying in the shower
