

Evidence

Letdown.

I saw your face in the mirror
I found myself disappearing but
I give up on giving in
And this war is the evidence

I was on my own
Searching for a secret
Riches and gold was the language I spoke
Till you told me what I needed
Water into wine
But no liquor on the table
I was asleep till you made me believe
The devil was my savior

Lie to me, lie to me, light it up
Take a match and fire me, fire me, fire me
Lie to me, lie to me, lie to me
What have I become, what have I done

I saw your face in the mirror
I found myself disappearing 'cause
Said you were the medicine
Your will, my testament
I gave you all that you wanted
Closer I got you kept running but
I give up on giving in
And this war is the evidence

And this war is the evidence

The skies are running red
It's painted on the ceiling
They burned down my home to make me feel alone
Now I'm holding to the feeling

Light it up, light it up, lie to me
Take a match and fire me, fire me, fire me
Light it up, light it up, light it up
What have I become, what have you done

I saw your face in the mirror
I found myself disappearing 'cause
Said you were the medicine
Your will, my testament
I gave you all that you wanted
Closer I got you kept running but
I give up on giving in
And this war is the evidence

And this war is the evidence

And this war is the evidence
