

Scars

Letters From The Fire

Took a chance...
Took a chance...
Took a chance...
Took a chance on a broken man I...

I can see the truth behind your eyes where it hides out among the ashes of a life never torn apart by lies, by lies, I fell for a heart that wasn't mine I took a chance on a broken man I never knew of the emptiness inside, inside

Memories haunt me everyday
The pain does not evade scars will never fade

Should have known when I walked into your life that your price brought consequences casting shadows on the days gone by, gone by,
I fell for a heart that wasn't mine took a chance on a broken man and I'm not the one who lingers in your mind, your mind

Memories haunt me everyday
the pain does not evade scars will never fade
memories have all turned into hate, the damage still remains, forever, some scars will never fade

Don't tell me you love me cause words mean nothing, Don't tell me you love me, it's too late, you haunt me everyday

The pain does not evade, scars will never fade,
Memories have all turned into hate, the damage still remains, forever,
some scars will never fade, some scars will never fade

Don't tell me you love me...
