Lewis Capaldi

Broken by desire to be heavenly sent
Divinely uninspired to a hellish extent
When my heart stops beating
Will it all be in vain?
It burns a little faith every time it'll fall
Looking for reconciliation with the years that I've lost
When my heart stops beating, will I still feel the same?

I've been falling for miles down for a while
And back again
It's only gone for a while now in the eye of the hurricane

I only wanna feel safe
Can't dig my heels in the ground
I only wanna be free
And make my family proud
And I hope I figure it out

Getting used to prying eyes to my faith I resign
Guess it's the classic roll of pay for trying to step out of line
If it all starts crumbling, well the blame is all mine

I've been falling for miles down for a while
And back again
It's only gone for a while now in the eye of the hurricane

I only wanna feel safe
Can't dig my heels in the ground
I only wanna be free
And make my family proud
Don't wanna make no mistake
For fear of letting you down
I only wanna be free
And make my family proud
And I hope I figure it out

I've been falling for miles down for a while
And back again
It's only gone for a while now in the eye of the hurricane

I only wanna feel safe
Can't dig my heels in the ground
I only wanna be free
And make my family proud
Don't wanna make no mistake
For fear of letting you down
I only wanna be free
And make my family proud
And I hope I figure it out
I hope I figure it out
I hope I figure it out
