

feelings fade

Lewis Watson

You're miles away
But I swear I hear it when you call my name
It's such a shame
That I'm still wondering when did the feelings fade?
When did the feelings fade?

Twice the trying, second place
Tired of tiring, wide awake
Underwater and I'm drowning

Another day
In a crowd of people I will see your face
Oh, what a waste
Nothing to show for all of the memories made
All the memories made

Twice the trying, second place
Tired of tiring, wide awake
Underwater and I'm drowning

You're miles away
But I swear I hear it when you call my name
It's such a shame
That I'm still wondering when did the feelings fade?
When did the feelings fade?
