

take what you need

Lewis Watson

Think my heart might just run out my love
If we fight for another day
I used to be something you wanted
But It's different
We're different because now when

You tell me you need me
I walk away bleeding and
Now I can see that
I'm on my own

How's this love when
You take what you need and run
Cold and numb when
You up and leave me
You take what you need and run

When your heart is running out my love
Do you always run away
I know that you used to feel something
But it's different
We're different because now when

You tell me you need me
I walk away bleeding and
Now I can see that
I'm on my own

How's this love when
You take what you need and run
Cold and numb when
You up and leave me
You take what you need and run

How's this love when
You take what you need and run
Cold and numb when
You up and leave me
You take what you need and run
