

I Don't Even Know

Lexa Gates

Aight, so what I gotta do to get it all the way across?
They depicted me the boss, sparkling water, Voss
Even though I'm feeling lost, I could try to toss
Everything I've ever known in the stratosphere
Dirty stripper bitches smoking in my atmosphere
Got me looking around, wondering how I got in here
And I'm outta town, family thinks I disappeared
But I'm bugging out, feels like they're still in my ear
Cut from the same cloth, tryna resteer
Ugh, make me thank Lord when the checks clear
Yes, to a new address, shows me I'm blessed
And I know what I'ma want, you could have the rest
I be telling straight lies with a puffed chest
Walking through a world of war, bulletproof vest
Luckier than the rest, I guess
Luckier than the rest, I guess

I'm usually by myself
Need help, there's nothing wrong with me
Swear my shit don't smell, I'm well off
Draped in luxury, haven't been through hell
It's tight, really, everything's alright
I don't even know, oh (Know, know)

But you know where I am
Where I'm gonna be
Only time will tell why I'm stuck with me
Who knows what I know
Sees the way I see
Felt I knew you once
Thought I'd found the key

Baby, I didn't make all of these bad things happen
I'm just completing the tasks at hand
You still tryna figure out what you on
How you wanna fuck up all my plans
A-a-all my bands make me shine through the rain
Help me grind through the pain, got me sleep on a plane
I don't ride on the train no more
Big, big, big, make it so you can't ignore, what you talking about?
Got nothing on me, how you stunting on me
I touch thou that your eyes can't see
What your boys won't be and your girl won't know about
Psycho people send me message 'bout my whereabouts
Tryna kill me like an unborn baby
Crazy, don't be mad at me 'cause you're lazy
Be a man, be a man
Be a man, be a man

I'm usually by myself
Need help, there's nothing wrong with me
Swear my shit don't smell, I'm well off
Draped in luxury, haven't been through hell
It's tight, really, everything's alright
I don't even know, oh (Know, know)

But you know where I am

Where I'm gonna be
Only time will tell why I'm stuck with me
Who knows what I know
Sees the way I see
Felt I knew you once
Thought I'd found the key

Really, everything's alright
Really, everything's alright
Really, everything's alright
Really, everything's alright
