Who Is the Hunter

I never meant to run I only blew my gun to watch which beast still runs A fall won't make a sound You only held us bound to watch a fielder run I only wanted more I only wanted time to watch her feel around I never stood too long It won't do anyone to watch this river rise I never meant to run I only knew my one true hope the beast would run I'll fall, hit and run You only held me along to watch a fear arouse I only wanted more I only wanted time to watch her feel around I never stay too long It won't do anyone to watch that river rise

Liars