All This Time

Lido

All this time, I've been loving you
For all these years, I've got feelings
All this time, catching sight of you
And in my mind, I've been dreaming
All this time, I've been loving you
For all these years, I've got feelings
All this time, never met your eyes
Still I am

(Thinking of you)
Excuse me, you don't know who I am, but I wish you did
You left your phone on your desk and I thought bring it to you, cause I'm always
(Thinking of you)
Way too much
And I know I don't say too much
It's cause I'm nervous that you might have the ability to sense that I'm (Thinking of you)
So I put my number in it, hope that's not out of place
Though your out of my league, just in case you need me
I'm probably already
(Thinking of you)
Anyway, give me a call, any day, any night
Any way, any why, maybe I
Should've said it out loud

All this time, I've been loving you
For all these years, I've got feelings
All this time, catching sight of you
And in my mind, I've been dreaming
All this time, I've been loving you
For all these years, I've got feelings
All this time, never met your eyes
Still I am

I need to get my act right
She will never see me, like she lack light
Or I lack height, make me taller, maybe I'd call her
If I knew that her battery was dead
Cause I'd die if she'd pick it up
So your answer machine is enough
Even though it's perfect when we talk in the mirror
It don't really mean nothing, but you on
So I'm staring at the green button 'till you gone, away
And it's gray and I lay it away for the day, and I
Could you hold this
Even though it's beating like crazy, you probably won't notice
This ain't a crush, it's a crash
So I rush into class, then I blush and I spaz out

All this time, I've been loving you
For all these years, I've got feelings
All this time, catching sight of you
And in my mind, I've been dreaming
All this time, I've been loving you
For all these years, I've got feelings
All this time, never met your eyes

Still I am
